BRIDGE WORKMAN FALLS TO HIS DEATH

W. M. Skunk Carried Into River by Collapse of False Work.

Was Employed in Tearing Down the Old I. C. Bridge in the Tennessee River at Gilbertsville.

THE BODY WAS RECOVERED

W. M. Skunk, white, aged about 30 years, of North Carolina, was drowned in Tennessee river at the old I. C. bridge now being torn down near Gilbertsville, Ky., yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock. The drowning was due to the collapse of some false work, and the carpenter perished before anything could be done to aid him.

Skunk was regularly employed in tearing down the old bridge and a lot of false work had been placed about the piling and piers. Without warning the false work gave away, carrying the unfortunate carpenter with it. The heavy timber sank immediately in striking the water and arose again but the man did not come to the surface.

His companion stood powerless by to watch the bubbles arise from the drowning man beneath the fallen wood work. A search was immediately instituted for the body and about dusk it was recovered, just as the searchers were preparing to give it up.

A telephone message to the Paducah Undertaking company here was received at midnight asking for an embalmer and Mr. S. P. Pool went to Gilbertsville to embalm the body this morning.

Little is known of the drowned man except that he resided in North Carolina and was single. He leaves parents, however, and the remains will be held pending word from them.

There have been several accidents on this work since the crew began tearing down the bridge, but this is the first fatal one. Two men have fallen from the false work, one injuring an arm and another a foot, but both are improving in the hospital here. They were saved by boatmen stationed in the river to be ready for any emergency which might occur.

Two others were slightly injured. The explosion tore loose the floor, completely wrecked the commissioners' room and shattered most of the windows in the court house.

The explosion was occasioned by escaping gas coming into contact with lighted match in the hands of Patrick Walsh, superintendent of the county buildings while he was looking for a gas leak in the court house.

VANDERBILT AND BUSCH INVITED

To Come to the Paducah Horse Show With Their Strings.

They Are Now at Louisville—Mr. O. L. Gregory Sent to Formally Invite Them.

MANY SPONSORS ARE EXPECTED

Mr. O. L. Gregory has gone to the Louisville Horse Show as a representative of the Paducah horse show to try and induce some of the exhibitors there to attend the local show.

Reginald Vanderbilt, of New York, and Adolphus Busch, of St. Louis, president of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing company, are at the Louisville Horse Show with fine strings of horses and they will be asked to come here with their animals, or at least send a part of them. Mr. Gregory will also request other persons there with horses to come to Paducah.

If these two prominent men should come to the Paducah show the success of the attraction would be assured, for hundreds of people would attend from a distance in order to get to see them as well as their horses. Mr. Busch was sent an invitation a few days ago but has made no reply.

Miss Lizzie Sinnott, of the invitation committee, stated today that 102 sponsors had been invited from Kentucky, Tennessee, Illinois, St. Louis, Dallas, Tex., and Chicago. Mrs. J. C. W. Beckham, wife of the governor of the state, was invited, but she declined. Twelve ladies have accepted and about as many declined. Of course the whole list was not expected to respond favorably.

DEADLY DUEL.

Fought by Two Men With Only a Dog as a Witness.

Du'uth, Minn., Oct. 5.—With no other witnesses than a vicious dog, two men, James Canty, a timber cruiser and Gus Lahti, a homesteader, fought a duel to the death at Taber, 17 miles north of Hibbing.

Details of the battle will never be known, but from the appearance of the scene, the struggle must have been over a wide surface.

Both bodies were badly mangled. Canty is supposed to have been attacked by Lahti's dog or had angered Lahti by crossing the line of his homestead.

The presumption is that Lahti attacked Canty with a knife, giving Canty several deep cuts about the head and body. Lahti also carried a gun, with which he shot his opponent in the breast. Canty evidently wrenched the knife away, as Lahti was also badly cut.

The former was also chewed about the legs by the dog. When the men were nearly dead, appearance indicate that they took different directions, their bodies were found 900 feet apart. Canty was missed at the camp, and found by a searching party.

UNCLE SAM TO CUT DOWN THE SERVICE

Eleven of the Marine Hospitals May be Discontinued.

Secretary Shaw Not Ready to Announce Which Ones Will Be Abolished.

CONGRESS MUST FIRST ACT

Washington D. C., Oct. 5.—Secretary of the Treasury Shaw, it is announced today has decided to recommend the abandonment of eleven of the hospitals in the United States marine service now maintained at the expense of the government.

There are only 23 of these hospitals in the United States and the recommendation of Secretary Shaw cannot be carried out until congress meets, as the consent of congress is necessary.

Until congress has acted Secretary Shaw declines to give out which of the hospitals it is his intention to abandon.

It had been reported for several days that the government contemplated abolishing some of its hospitals, and it reported that at least two of these on the Ohio river will be among those closed.

There are now marine hospitals at Cincinnati, Louisville, Evansville and Cairo. There was one at Paducah years ago but it was burned during the war.

One reason the government is to reduce the service is that there are now so many hospitals along the rivers that it can have marine patients cared for at less expense there than by maintaining its own hospitals.

The wheel was reduced to a tangled mass of steel and wire and the rider was slightly bruised. He picked up his wrecked machine and limped off without giving his name. THOMAS M'CLAIN SHOOTS BROTHER Ill Feeling Culminates in Tragedy Near Benton.

J. Crit McClain Shot Under the Eye, But Will Recover, It is Thought.

THE SHOOTIST MAY BE INSANE.

A sensational shooting affray occurred yesterday afternoon near Harvey, Marshall county, six miles from Benton. Tom McClain shot his brother, J. Crit McClain, but did not fatally wound him. The man who did the shooting is believed to be temporarily demented, and had to be kept tied last night after the shooting took place.

The brothers reside on adjoining farms, and have not been on good terms for some time. The cause of their differences are varied and of long standing, but there had been no serious trouble between them before.

They went to Benton yesterday to attend the circus and Tom McClain began drinking. They had an altercation there, but did not come to blows. It is said that on their way home they again had words, but friends again prevented trouble.

After reaching home Tom McClain went to the farm of his brother and becoming threatening was warned to leave. He refused and his brother went inside. It is said that after going in he reappeared and threw a stick of wood at Tom, and the latter drew a pistol and shot through the door, but missed.

Crit McClain then opened the door again and heaved another stick of wood, and quickly closed the door.

Tom McClain fired through the door again and the shot struck his brother under the left eye, and has not yet been located. The doctor does not think the wound is necessarily fatal, however, and the victim is able to be up today.

Tom McClain went home after the shooting and became so wild that he had to be tied. He will be arrested as soon as he is in condition to be taken to Benton.

The two men are well known in Paducah, as well as all over Marshall county.

Saturday, matinee and night, "Fabio Romani."

Certain it is that before another week has passed two new acts will be whistled around Paducah streets, "Tammany," and "Spin Again." will be heard on every street corner. These are the two whistling numbers of "The Royal Chef," the new Shubert musical production which will be seen at The Kentucky Friday night. The "Tammany" number is said to be one of the catchiest airs of the season, while the "Spin Again" number is sure to be a favorite with music lovers. Besides these two there are many others in the musical comedy, which are all sure to become popular.

The great duel scene in "Fabio Romani," the thrilling romantic melodrama which comes to The Kentucky on Saturday matinee and night, is described as being one of the most realistic knife fights upon the stage today. Tension is keyed up to the fever pitch during the struggle for supremacy and the finale is unequalled for sensational effect. The production has everywhere been heralded as the greatest spectacular melodrama of the age and judging from the large amount of scenery carried and the clever New York company which interprets Marie Corelli's famous story, it is worthy of all the commendation it has received. It is certain this will be one of the chief features of the theatrical season here and a full house will undoubtedly greet the New Yorkers.

"If there has been anything better seen or heard in Mayville the past couple of seasons in the way of comic opera than "Said Pasha," as presented by the Herald Square Opera company, we fail to remember it. Last night's audience was simply delighted with the performance. Miss Leona Watson, the prima donna, who is a Kentucky girl, won much deserved applause and she certainly can sing. There are other fine warblers in the cast whose voices were helped by a capable musical director who knows his business. The fun makers were far above the average and their lines were well handled." NUMBERING BOXES

On the Rural Routes is Progressing Despite the Hold-Up Order.

Many residents along the rural routes are numbering their mail boxes, although the department order has been held up temporarily. The country merchants object to the plan, and it is likely a modification will follow. It was the intention to have mail delivered on the rural routes if only addressed to the number of the box. This, although not so intended, would enable the mail order and patent medicine houses to flood the country with literature if being unnecessary to know anyone's name. The circulars would simply be addressed to the number of the box. Postoffice officials think that the department will order the numbering of boxes to proceed, but not allow mail delivered to them unless addressed to some person residing there.

Is the Deal Off?

A Dispatch From Clarksville, Tenn., says: "It is understood that the deal between Mr. Ferigo, a representative of the Italian government, and the Dark Tobacco Growers' Association for 8,000 hogsheds of tobacco, has fallen through. Mr. Ferigo is said to have selected the finest Regie types held by the association, such grades are worth 11 cents in Italy. The latter priced this selection at 9 1/2 cents. Mr. Ferigo said he did not object to the price, but contended that the tobacco was graded too high and demanded the grade reduced to $8.93, making a wide difference. The association declined the offer and Mr. Ferigo has returned to New York."

The Best Doctor

Rev. B. C. Horton, Sulphur Springs, Tex., writes, July 19, 1902: "I have used in my family Ballard's Snow Liniment and Horehound Syrup, and they have proved certainly satisfactory. A tin pan and a piano are two different things according to our way of thinking. Don't come to us for a TIN PAN, we sell PIANOS, instruments that represent perfection in tone and real musical qualities. We refuse to handle anything else.

We do not sell merely "beautified cases" that have a multitude of defects. We protect you by our actual knowledge of pianos, and when you do buy a piano of us you get a real musical instrument, not merely a piece of furniture. Daily Thought.

"There is such a thing as becoming so busy in getting on in the world as to have no time to get above
it."

TO LIMIT INSURANCE.

Collier's Weekly for September 30
suggests that the amount of insurance which one company can take should be limited. It says:A reaction is certainly taking place in favor of the smaller insurance companies, though to what extent can not yet be told. Years ago the dangers of unlimited size were pointed out. In a paper by an actuary read at the convention of insurance commissioners of 1892, for example, it was argued that the large-est companies might "grow to such vast size that their officers, supervised by their directors and examined by state insurance officials." And he, like other prophets, pointed out also the moral temptation, increasing with the size. Mr. Hughes, pressing an officer of one big company about syndicate operations, received the reply that they were necessary in order to handle so much business. To the paraphrase of Mr. Hughes, that the insurance companies fight for an amount of business that will force them to disregard the law, there was,
as there could be, no adequate reply.These big companies have come to be indifferent to the permanence of the business written. The public has been naturally hypnotized by figures. The statement of an agent that his company has hundreds of millions in assets stops criticism, for "a billion of assets in force" must impress the uninformed imagination.

The policy-holder can hardly be expected to know that under the law of legal reserve each thousand dollars of insurance in force is protected by its reserve, and that therefore a company with $20,000,000 of insurance in force, and a reasonable surplus is as sound as one with many times that volume. The principles of life insurance, however, will at the end of the present upheaval, be better understood by the public than they ever were before. A limitation of the amount of insurance permitted to one company is likely to be among the many legal measures taken to keep this vast and necessary business from becoming dangerous to the policy-holders, to other lines
of enterprise, and to the community.

John D. Rockefeller has been the under dog for a long time so far as public opinion is concerned. He has been abused and pilloried, and denounced as a Pariah unworthy of living. People are beginning to see him in a new light. The abuse has been heaped on him so plentifully lately
that it is actually arousing sympathy for him. He has been discussed and dissected to such an extent that his true character is beginning to be revealed, and it can be said to his credit that he is not the John D. Rockefeller that so many have imagined.
One Chicago philanthropist is out in a statement that he had rather be John D. Rockefeller poor, with his loving disposition and brilliant mind,
than the whole pack of his traducers,
with all the money in the country.

Those democratic election officers who insisted on registering republicans as democrats may find that it was not so much of a joke as they think it was. The way a person is registered of course has nothing to do with how he votes, but it is unpleasant for the nominee of one party to have his name entered in the registration books as belonging to the other party, even if it was intended as a "joke."

The repeaters imported by the democrats in Louisville seem to be pugilists as well as rascals. General Basil Duke attempted to look over one's shoulder and was struck violently by the man and knocked down
the steps to the ground, but fortunately was not seriously injured. The thug escaped and doubtless went to some other voting place to do his stunt.

The insurance investigation is doing a lot of good in many ways, and the good results are expected to continue indefinitely; but this fact does not justify notoriety-seekers making fools of themselves by trying to get their names in the papers on all sorts of pretexts such as suing the company for getting defeated in the last election.

Thank goodness we don't have things here as they do at Louisville, either at the registration or the election. They fight, scratch, abuse, vilify, and cordially hate each other there, and then wind up by all pleading ignorance and innocence of any wrong.

The election is never over until the ballots are cast and counted. The registration in Paducah may be a source of gratification to the democrats, and doubtless should be, but you can't tell how a man is going to vote by the way he registers.

Reggie Vanderbilt carried off many of the prizes at the Louisville Horse Show, and has been almost as much of a curiosity at Louisville as the other exhibits. We should make an effort to get him to come to Paducah.

It is too late to attempt any more street work this year, and it is said on good authority that no more will be attempted this year.

Among the sons of men how few are known who dare be just to merit
not their own!—Churchill.

K. OF P. WILL SELL LEXINGTON HOME

Grand Lodge Declines to Accept it Under the Conditions.The Matter of a State Home Will Now Be Reopened and New Bids Asked.

NOTHING UNTIL NEXT YEAR.

Mr. Alex Kulp returned this morning from Hopkinsville, where he has been attending the grand lodge of Kentucky Knights of Pythias. Messrs.
Lawrence Gleaves and Harry Atkins,
the other two delegates from Paducah,
will arrive tonight or tomorrow.

Mr. Kulp reports that the grand lodge declined to accept the Lexington property for a state home for K.
of P. widows and orphans, and the property was ordered sold.

The matter of establishing a state Home will be reopened next year, and steps be taken to establish a home elsewhere. This will necessitate new bids being made by various cities desiring the Home, and submitted to the committee.

When the home was under discussion last year Paducah submitted what was considered by many the best bid, but Lexington was successful. It was learned after the Lexington property had been decided on that the contract or agreement gave Fayette county a right to send its paupers to the home if it desired to do so. Although the grand lodge received the assurance that the county had no idea of doing such a thing, there was no certainty that at some future time it would not be done, with the contract in the shape it is now in, and the grand lodge decided to take no chances and rejected the Lexington property, which it did.

TWO NEW TRAINS

DESIRED BY THE MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION OVER THE N. C. & ST. L.One Should Arrive About 9 a. m. and Leave About 5 p. m. for Paris.

The Retail Merchants' Association last night discussed a matter of great importance to Paducah and the members are going to make every effort to have their ideas carried out. They think that there should be a train into Paducah over the N. C.
and St. L. in the forenoon, and one out on the same road late in the afternoon.

Their plan is to have the road inaugurate a schedule that will bring in an accommodation train from as far south as Paris, Tenn., in the morning, leaving Paris about 5 and reaching Paducah about 9 a. m. and to have a train leave here for Paris and way stations about 5 p. m. and reach there about 9 p. m. This would be a great convenience to people all along the line, and it is believed would bring much new business to Paducah.

The trains now arrive here at 1:10 o'clock in the afternoon and 8:15 in the evening, and leave at 7:45 in the forenoon and 2:30 in the afternoon.

The Cases Come Up.

Attorney C. C. Grassham left yesterday afternoon for Smithland to represent the defendants in the big back tax suits against the Ayer & Lord Tie company, the Standard Tie company, the Holcomb-Lobb Tie company, the Moss company, the Pillsbury-Watkins company and the Bates & Watkins Construction company. The suits were called this morning in the county court. The plaintiff is Sheriff Bush for Livingston county. He asks that each tie company be assessed $265,000, the total amount for five years, and the construction company $500,000 for two years. The defendants will only give evidence as to the amount of property they had in Livingston county during the periods they are sued for, and the questions of law
will be tried in the circuit court.

JEWISH PEOPLE

ARE PREPARING FOR A MONSTER CELEBRATION NEXT MONTH.Commemorates Anniversary of Their Settlement in the United States.

The executive committee on the celebration of the 250th anniversary of the settlement of the Jews in the United States, is sending out a little handbook containing descriptive and historical information regarding the important event to be commemorated, and also a pamphlet reprint of the article, "America," in the Jewish Encyclopedia.

Arrangements for the proper observance of the anniversary are being directed from New York by the committee. Money is being raised by popular subscription from the Jews
in the United States for the erection of a monument.

Throughout the whole United States religious services will be held in the synagogues the Saturday preceding Thanksgiving Day, and in the Jewish Sabbath schools the Sunday
preceding the holiday.

A monster public celebration will be held in Carnegie hall, New York,
on Thanksgiving Day, November 30.

The object of the committee in sending out literature concerning the celebration from the officials of Jewish congregations and Sabbath schools in all parts of the country, from communities where there are no regular synagogues, from lodges, the Councils of Jewish Women, the Circles of the Jewish Chautauque Society, Young Men's Hebrew Associations, Jewish Orphan Asylums and similar organizations.

No arrangements have yet been made in Paducah for the celebration,
but will be in due time.

TAKEN TO CLINTON

NEGRO YOUTH TO BE TRIED FOR ATTEMPTED ASSAULT.He Was Brought Here Several Weeks Ago to Escape the Wrath of an Angry Mob.

Jimmie Hale, an eighteen-year-old negro who was brought here several weeks ago from Hickman county and lodged in the McCracken county jail for safe keeping, was taken back to Hickman county last night to answer to the charge of attempted criminal assault.

Hale is alleged to have assaulted a white woman. He was intercepted and taken to jail, but a crowd of infuriated citizens formed with the intention of mobbing the boy, and Sheriff Givehs had to spirit him away and drive here in a buggy to deliver him to Jailer Jones for safe keeping.

Hale denied that he was guilty of the charge. The crime is alleged to have been attempted near Hickman and Hale was taken to Clinton, where circuit court is in session, to be tried immediately. It is thought that feeling against the negro has about died out, and that there is little possibility of a mob attempting to seize the prisoner again.

Sheriff Givehs arrived about 6 o'clock last night and left with his prisoner via Fulton at 6:40 o'clock.

Boy's Hand Hurt on a Saw.

Bud Spann, a white boy employed burg, was injured yesterday afternoon in an accident at the mill. The boy was working at a buzz saw when his right hand slipped as he shoved a piece of board into the saw. The fingers came in contact with the teeth and lacerated the flesh badly, but fortunately did not touch the bone. Dr. J. S. Troutman dressed

WEDDINGS.

Mr. Harry T. Hollingshead, of the Paducah Coopers company, is expected to return Saturday from Colorado Springs, Col., where he attended the marriage of his sister Tuesday.
The bride is daughter of Mr. J. D.
Hollingshead, who has extensive interests in Paducah and often comes here.

A Colorado Springs dispatch says:
Colorado Springs, Col., Oct. 5.— The marriage of Charles L. Allen, of the Mechanics' National bank, of St.
Louis, and Miss Mary Hollingshead,
a popular young society leader of Colorado Springs, occurred at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D.
Hollingshead. A large number of guests were present from Chicago,
until lately the bride's home; St.
Louis and other cities. The bride wore white chiffon, embroidered in pink roses, over white chiffon and silk, imported from Switzerland. After a short trip, Mr. and Mrs. Allen will be at home at 5572 Clements avenue, St. Louis.

The marriage of Miss Nell Wat-
wood Briggs, who has frequently visited in Paducah, to Mr. Walter F.
Wright, took place last evening at 9 o'clock at the Methodist church, in Mayfield, the Rev. C. A. Watterfield officiating.

The following were the attendants:
Mr. Walter Albritton, best man; Miss Alice Cox, Greenacres, Ind., maid of honor; bridesmaids and attendants:
Miss Grace Gardner and Mr. Holly
Gilliam; Miss Ted's Key and Mr.
Bunk Gardner; Miss Lucia Thomas
and Mr. John Davis, and Miss Mable Norman and Mr. Charlie Norman.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. B. F.
Briggs.

Mr. Dan W. Stamper, of Mayfield, was yesterday at 5 o'clock at Princeton, married to Miss Verna M. Mc-Gregor, of Dawson, Ky. The ceremony was performed by Eld. A. S.
Pettie, of Mayfield.

Louis Diagnid, the young man reported in yesterday's dispatches as having eloped with Miss Mary Walker, of Hickman, to Union City, Tenn., is a son of Attorney G. C. Diagnid, of Paducah. He is an amateur ball player and went from here recently to Hickman to live.

The Cairo Bulletin of today says
of the Halley-Nelson wedding:

Harry Alma Nelson, of St. Louis, and Miss Pearl Hartman Halley, of Cairo were married yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Halley, 318 Eighth street.

Rev. Charles A. Armstrong, pastor of the Immanuel Lutheran church,
performed the ceremony.

It was a quiet but pretty home wedding; only relatives and intimate friends being present.

Mrs. C. Fred Galigher played the wedding march.
Mrs. Nelson was attired in a pretty Swiss over silk gown and carried a bouquet of American beauties and lilies of the valley.

The only attendant was Miss Marie Halley, sister of the bride, who was maid of honor. Miss Halley wore a pale green crepe de chine over silk.

A luncheon was daintily served by Misses Margaret Lansden, Lida Halliday, Lucy Davidson and Pauline Vanderburg. Afterwards Mr. and Mrs. Nelson left for a trip to several northern cities. They will live at St.
Louis, at 2737 Cook avenue, being at home after October 15.

Mrs. Nelson is one of the most popular of Cairo's younger society folks.

Mr. Nelson graduated in the Cairo
High school, in the same class with Mrs. Nelson. He moved to Paducah
several years ago. A few months ago he left that city for St. Louis to travel for the Charksdale Cider company
of that city.

Among the out-of-town people present were Mrs. M. D. Nelson, of Paducah, mother of Mr. Nelson, and David Halley, of Indianapolis, Ind., a brother of the bride.

The marriage of Mr. Charles Brown, of this city to Miss Blanche Adams, of Coulterville, Ill., will take place on Saturday at the bride's home. Mr. Robert Black and Mr.
Gordon Head, of Paducah, will be attendants at the wedding. A bridal trip to St. Louis and other points will be taken before coming to Paducah.

Messrs. Brown, Head and Black
will leave tomorrow for Coulterville.

Carl Darnell, age 21, and Murtie
Rudd, age 21, of Marshall county, were this morning licensed to wed.
It will make the first marriage of each.

The marriage of Miss Nellie Elizabeth Harrison and Mr. Charles Young which took place yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the St. Francis de Sales Catholic parsonage was a pretty ceremonial. The Rev. Father H.
W. Jansen performed the ceremony in the presence of a limited number of friends and relatives. The bride wore white organdy and a bridal veil and carried bride roses. There were no attendants. A reception and supper at the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. Ellen Young, of West Broadway followed the ceremony. The couple went immediately to housekeeping

in their home on the Cairo road.

The wedding of Miss Lella Brown and Mr. Gus Rouff was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the parsonage of the German Lutheran church on South Fourth street.
Rev. A. L. Ilten performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by only the immediate families. The bride wore a blue cloth tailor suit with hat to match. A wedding supper was given at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Thomas Scopes on West Tennessee street. The couple will reside on the Hinkleville road.

Mr. W. F. Bradshaw, Jr., has returned from Georgia.

Since the quarantine was estab-

perceptible change in the blind bag-

report that very few persons are now caught riding the blinds. The quar-

come in some of the southern towns and the only blind baggage riders
who are found, come from the south.

THE ICE MAN.

Thought the Clerk Was "Kiddin'" and Stopped the Deal.

City Clerk Henry Bailey's tenacious adherence to his duties came near getting him into trouble this morning.

Clerk Bailey has by force of habit or rather from the rigid regulations of his office, been swearing in every one who comes into his office with any city bills. Recently he began swearing in the ice man for every ten cents' worth of ice. The ice man took it as a joke and expected it every morning.

The regular ice man was transferred this morning, however, and a new one showed up. The former ice man was of slight build and under size, but the new man is a sort of buster.

He came in after depositing the ice in the cooler and demanded the check.

"Hold up your right hand and be sworn," Clerk Bailey commanded.

With an expression of wonder the new ice man shoved up his lunch grabber and the usual routine of administering the oath began. The ice man didn't like it, and besides, it was taking up his time.

Dropping his fist in the middle of the oath he said: "Here, mister, I'll tell you what. If you don't gimme that ice ticket I'll take a punch at your mug, see?"

"What did you do?" Clerk Bailey was asked.

"What did I do?" repeated the clerk, "why I gave him that ticket as quick as I could, that's all I did."

WHY NOT SAVE

THE DIFFERENCE?

The very fact that the life insurance companies of the east have the millions tucked away on which to speculate or gamble or with which to bribe legislative bodies is proof that they take from the people millions in excess of what insurance costs. The Columbian Woodmen, a southern association, according to the closest figures of the best actuaries, gives you insurance at cost plus ten per cent. The permanent rate on $5,000 to one entering at 40 years of age is $2.75 per month. The insurance syndicate will charge three times this sum. Why will you pay the difference? Ex-Governor Northern and Hon. Hoke Smith would not be associated with a doubtful concern. Any man desiring insurance should investigate the Columbian Woodmen. The clerk of the Paducah Household, Attorney L. K. Taylor, will gladly give you further information.

A LARGE CROWD

Enjoyed the Rudy, Phillips Opening Last Night.

The millinery opening of Rudy Phillips & Co. last night was quite a gala event, and was attended by a large crowd of visitors. Being an evening opening made it out of the usual order of such events and emphasized somewhat more on the public mind. The big store was elaborately decorated and much taste was evinced in the display. Deal's band played a select program during the evening which added an attractive feature.

ONE NEW CASE.

The Few Cases of Scarlet Fever Are Sporadic and in Mild Form.

Another new case of scarlet fever has been discovered at 605 North Seventh street. The victim is the little child of J. Duperry, who is a tailor for H. G. Harneling. The child attended the Jefferson school. Health Officer William Graves has quarantined the case.

Dr. Graves stated this morning that there were about eight or ten cases in Paducah but it did not seem to be in a malignant form as there had not been a single death from it. When asked if he had fears of an epidemic he said he did not. He and the doctors are taking great care to prevent a spread. The schools have been well fumigated and as soon as a case is reported it is quarantined.

It is sporadic showing up in different sections of the city and there is not any section or neighborhood with over one or two cases. Dr. Graves was asked if he had traced how the first case started and said he had been unable to do so. In fact, he did not know how it got here. He stated that he had learned that it was breaking out at Princeton and other surrounding towns, also in this county.

In quarantining Dr. Graves allows the older members to leave the house but prohibits them from going into the room where the fever is. He said there would be no danger then if they would disinfect their clothing. He also stops all the children in the family from attending school until danger is past.

With the Sick.

General Agent J. T. Donovan is slightly ill from malaria.

Dr. H. P. Sights, who has an attack of malarial fever, is improving but he will not be out for several days.

Justice Jesse Young is still confined to his home by illness.

Attorney Tom Crice is able to be out after a several weeks' illness.

Eugene Richardson is still confined to his bed from fever.

Officer William Rogers was taken ill this morning about 2 o'clock and forced to retire from duty and go home.

IN THE COURTS

Suit a Very Unusual One.

There was probably never a suit filed here exactly like that of Administrator F. G. Rudolph of James Hubbard's estate, against Mrs. Mand Hubbard and others, to decide who is entitled to $468.57 that is supposed to go to Hubbard's child. Mrs. Mand Hubbard is a second wife and the child is by Hubbard's first wife. She alleges that the child is not that of the deceased, and the money will remain in the hands of the court until the evidence is heard and it is decided to whom the money rightfully belongs.

Box Factory Incorporates.

Articles of incorporation for the Paducah Box and Basket factory have been filed in the county clerk's office. The incorporators are W. F. Morris, B. Morris, C. V. Wells and H. S. Wells, and they capitalize the concern at $5,000. The stock is divided up into shares worth $100 each, and subscribed for as follows: W. F. Morris, 100 shares; B. Morris, 50 shares; C. V. Wells, 50 shares and H. S. Wells, 100 shares. The company's plant is near the I. C. and N. C. & St. L. tracks just off Caldwell street, not far from the I. C. depot, and is nearing completion. It will make boxes, baskets, crates and such things.

Is Still At Large.

Berry Willis, colored, who drilled a hole in the city lockup wall Tuesday night and made good his escape, is still at large. The police have sent out a description of him and hope to apprehend him in a few days. He is charged with indecent exposure.

Bankruptcy Court.

Referee in Bankruptcy E. W. Bagby and Attorney J. R. Grogan returned from Murray last night after attending the first meeting of creditors in the cases of Wm. Lax & Co. and the two Duncan brothers.

No trustee in the latter cases was appointed but in the Lax case L. Y. Woodruff was selected and his bond fixed at $1,000. The firm of Wm. Lax & Co. consists of only one man, Lax.

Sheriff Selling Goods.

This afternoon Sheriff Lee Potter is selling household effects, a horse and buggy under order of the court in the case of R. A. Hicks against A. N. Robinson and others. The goods were sold to the defendant by the plaintiff but before the settlement was made in full, the defendant left the city. Dr. Hicks sued for his debt and the goods were attached and are being sold.

Sues for Divorce.

Cora Wood this afternoon through Attorneys Crice and Ross filed suit against her husband Oscar Wood alleging that he is guilty of immorality and also of cruel and ill treatment towards her. They married June, 1900, and separated July, 1904. She prays also for $500 alimony and the custody of their child.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

Will Hold Their Regular Meeting Tonight.

The aldermanic board will meet tonight in regular session, but nothing of unusual importance will come up.

There are several ordinances to receive second passage and the most important matter will probably be that of granting or refusing a liquor license to a saloon to be located at the site of the Rowlandtown school house. There will be other business which is practically a ratification of the action of the council Monday night.

CARRIER DEAD

BUT HORSE TO RURAL DELIVERY CONTINUED ON THE ROUTE.

An Unusual Story From Calloway County—F. H. Lockwood the Dead Carrier.

Death was the driver and a letter carrier on the rural delivery route of Frederick H. Lockwood, of New Canaan, today, says the Murray Ledger.

Lockwood left New Canaan early yesterday morning in perfect health to go over his route. He was driving his favorite horse, one that had been in the service since the rural delivery was started. Just after going on his route Lockwood suffered a stroke of apoplexy and died. He fell back in his wagon hidden from view by the mail sacks and the canvas sides.

The faithful old horse, accustomed to going over the route almost daily, made the usual rounds. He stopped at the mail boxes along the route. After standing at a box for the usual time to allow for the deposit and collection of mail the horse would jog along to the next box.

He had almost completed the route when he came to a standstill in front of the residence of Daniel Hamilton. The fact that the horse remained still so long and nothing was seen of Lockwood attracted the attention of persons in the house. They went out to investigate and found Lockwood dead.

Hickman, Ky., Oct. 5.—School began again with a full attendance. The schools, both white and negro, were closed two weeks ago to prevent the scattering of diphtheria, of which there was one case at that time in town. Bucher is firing the battery of boilers at night himself in order that the town may have lights and to keep the mines from being flooded with water. It seems that both sides are confident of a victory and there the matter rests.

Capt. Douglas Jones, of Mt. Vernon, Ind., is here on a short visit. The Woolfolk arrived yesterday afternoon from Memphis with a tow of empties for the West Kentucky Coal company and after cleaning boilers left this afternoon for the Mississippi river. Capt. Henry Campbell is in command.

Capt. Price is expecting his second show boat today to pass down from the Tennessee river. It is towed by the Argand.

The Warren left at 9 a. m. for Cairo with a good passenger trip. The Clyde got away yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock for Waterloo, Ala.

The Royal arrived this morning from Dycusburg and returned this afternoon.

The Joe Fowler arrived from Evansville last night and went to Mound City to go on the ways.

The Henry Harley is today's Evansville packet. She is now running in that trade alone.

The City of Saltillo is still due from the Tennessee river. A telegram announced that she would be here last night, but she failed to get in.

Henry Burley and W. O. Irwin, of Princeton, Ind., have provided themselves with an outfit to fish sunken logs from the Ohio river. They believe there is big money in it, as the river is full of sunken logs, and it is said water-soaked logs are more valuable for furniture lumber than other logs, for the reason that changes in the weather have no effect on it.

The Venus, sternwheel, a gasoline boat about fifty feet long, engaged in the lower coast packet trade, struck a snag at a point opposite Pointe-a-la-Hache Friday, Sept. 22nd, and sank in about thirty feet of water. She had about 700 barrels of oysters. Her owner Capt. John Barlow, and a crew of six men were aboard. All escaped.

The J. B. Finley will be laid up at Stewart's Landing above Cincinnati.

The side-wheel packets, Blue Wing and Wren, used to bring pig lead out of the Kentucky river fifty years ago and pile it up on the Strader wharf at the foot of Second street like cordwood. The ring bolts on the wharf to which these boats tied their lines can be seen today. They have never been removed. One of the above boats left here every Wednesday and Saturday for Frankfort. They abandoned the trade when the railroad to Frankfort was built. The Falls City is the only boat that has been running in the trade for years, and she goes far up the Kentucky river as Valley View, a considerable distance above Frankfort.—Courier-Journal.

There are 15,000 gasoline boats in operation in the United States. Steamboatmen have sent to Washington a complaint against the present system of measuring gasoline and naphtha boats. They say that the owners of small craft are evading the law and that false statements of the tonnage are made. The cause of the objection is the alleged cutting into the trades run by steamboats by unlicensed gasoline boats.

Capt. D. M. Connors of the Lee line was informed yesterday that Hickman, Ky., had followed the example of New Madrid and Point Pleasant, having raised the quarantine which prohibited up-bound boats from landing there.—Globe-Democrat

Attorney A. Y. Martin, of the firm of Bagby & Martin, has gone to Evansville on business connected with the steamers City of Idaho and Lotus which were sold by order of the court several weeks ago. GREAT PLEASURE FROM HIS WORK

HOW PAYNE DERIVES MUCH PLEASURE FROM HIS EFFORTS, AND CLAIMS IT MORE COMPENSATING THAN MONEY.

To illustrate this point, during a pleasant chat yesterday with the Great Payne. He brought up the case of a lady who came to him during his stay in Paducah and who, as near as he can remember spoke as follows: "Mr. Payne you see I do not look like a very sick woman, but I really believe there is no cure for me."

"It is only because many of my neighbors have been benefited by your medicine that I come to you as a last hope. For many years I have been a great sufferer, and it would seem almost impossible to explain where or how I feel the worst. I have been to nearly every physician in the city and getting prescriptions filled and buying medicine recommended, I am ashamed to face a doctor or drug clerk in the face."

"My husband is a hard working man, and it has taken all he could earn to make us a bare living, and pay for treatments for me." Before I could ask her what her complaint was, she continued. "When I awake in the morning I drag myself around to get my husband's breakfast, and throw myself back on the bed. I am troubled with hot and cold flashes, and terrible headaches lasting sometimes for days."

"I seem to be breaking in two across the small of my back, and have pains running up under my shoulder blades; in fact, at times I seem to be full of weakness and pains from head to foot, and have shortness of breath and palpitation of the heart, and when my duties call me up stairs I have to stop on every other step to catch my breath, and my heart seems about to jump out of my mouth."

"I am so nervous that a slight noise will cause me to start and tremble like a leaf, what I eat does not seem to give me any strength. Nervous indigestion is what the doctors usually say my trouble is, as I often spit up my food and have a bloated feeling around my stomach and bowels."

"My appetite is very uncertain and many kinds of food do not agree with me. I seem to have every weakness that is peculiar to womanhood, and while I do not expect a cure I want you to tell me truly if you think your medicine will benefit me."

"Now," said Payne, "I could only say as I have said to thousands. There is a cause for your aches and pains and weakness. You have doubtless been taking medicines that do not remove causes but are only intended to relieve symptoms for the time being. It is worth while trying my medicine, for it has permanently cured hundreds who were troubled as you are."

She bought a bottle of Payne's New Discovery and I thought no more about the matter until over a week had passed when there came to me a bright and smiling-faced woman with her joyful husband who almost overwhelmed me with their thanks.

This was the same woman who once was so hopeless, but who now was free from all pain and suffering, for under her cloak in a baking powder can the woman brought me the true cause of all her suffering—a little, old tape worm about 30 feet long, with one head and a thousand mouths.

Then it was that a thrill of pleasure ran through me, to know that which in the vital parts of a delicate woman was a terrible monster of suffering and trouble had been transformed by my simple medicine into a harmless, squirming mass without power to do further harm.

Raffles, The Amateur Cracksman

By E. W. HORNUNG

NINE POINTS OF THE LAW

No. 5 of the Series

(Copyright, 1899, by Charles Scribner's Sons.)

"What do you make of it?"

I read the advertisement once more before replying. It was in the last column of the Daily Telegraph, and it ran:

Two Thousand Pounds Reward.—The above sum may be earned by any one qualified to undertake delicate missions and prepared to run certain risk. Apply by telegram. SECURITY, London.

"I think," said I, "it's the most extraordinary advertisement that ever got into print."

Raffles smiled.

"Not quite all that, Bunney; still, extraordinary enough, I grant you."

"Look at the figure!"

"It is certainly large."

"And the mission—and the risk!"

"Yes, the combination is frank, to say the least of it. But the really original point is requiring applications by telegram to a telegraphic address. There's something in the fellow who thought of that, and something in his game. With one word he chokes off the millions who answer an advertisement every day—when they can raise the stamp. My answer cost me 5 bob. But then I prepaid another."

"You don't mean to say that you've applied?"

"Rather," said Raffles. "I want £2,000 as much as any man."

"Get your own name?"

"Well, no, Bunney. I didn't. In point of fact I smell something interesting and illegal, and you know what a caution I am. I signed myself Glasspool, care of Hickey, 38 Conduit street—that's my tailor—and after sending the wire I went round and told him what to expect. He promised to send the reply along the moment I came. I shouldn't be surprised if that's it."

And he was gone before a double knock on the outer door had done ring through the rooms, to return next minute with an open telegram and a face full of news.

"What do you think?" said he. "Security's that fellow Addenbrooke, the police court lawyer, and he wants to see me instantly!"

"Do you know him, then?"

"Merely by repute. I only hope he doesn't know me. He's the chap who got six weeks for sailing too close to the wind in the Sutton-Wilmer case. Everybody wondered why he wasn't struck off the rolls. Instead of that he's got a first rate practice on the sunny side, and every blackguard will half a case takes it straight to Bennet Addenbrooke. He's probably the only man who would have the cheek to put in an advertisement like that, and the one man who could do it without exciting suspicion. It's simply in his line, but you may be sure there's something shady at the bottom of it. The odd thing is that I have long made up my mind to go to Addenbrooke myself if accidents should happen."

"And you're going to him now?"

"This minute," said Raffles, brushing his hat, "and so are you."

"But I came in to drag you out to lunch."

"You shall lunch with me when we've seen this fellow. Come on, Bunney, and we'll choose your name on the way. Mine's Glasspool, and don't you forget it."

Mr. Bennett Addenbrooke occupied substantial offices in Wellington street, Strand, and was out when we arrived, but he had only just gone "over the way to the court," and five minutes sufficed to produce a brisk, fresh colored, resolute looking man, with a very confident, rather festive air and black eyes that opened wide at the sight of Raffles.

"Mr.—Glasspool?" exclaimed the lawyer.

"My name," said Raffles with dry effrontery.

"Not up at Lord's, however?" said the other slyly. "My dear sir, I have seen you take far too many wickets to make any mistake!"

For a single moment Raffles looked venomous. Then he shrugged and smiled, and the smile grew into a little cynical chuckle.

"So you have bowled me out in my turn?" said he. "Well, I don't think there's anything to explain. I am harder on than I wished to admit under my own name, that's all, and I want that £1,000 reward."

"Two thousand," said the solicitor. "And the man who is not above an alias happens to be just the sort of man I want, so don't let that worry you, my dear sir. The matter, however, is of a strictly private and confidential character." And he looked very hard at me.

"Quite so," said Raffles. "But there was something about a risk?"

"A certain risk is involved."

"Then surely three heads will be better than two. I said I wanted that £1,000; my friend here wants the other. We are both cursedly hard up, and we go into this thing together or not at all. Must you have his name too? I should give him my real one, Bunney."

Mr. Addenbrooke raised his eyebrow over the card I found for him; then he drummed upon it with his finger nail and his embarrassment expressed itself in a puzzled smile.

"The fact is I find myself in a difficulty," he confessed at last. "You're the first reply I have received. People who can afford to send long telegrams don't rush to the advertisements in the Daily Telegraph; but, on the other hand, I was not quite prepared to hear from men like yourselves. Can you do me a favor, Bunney? I am not sure that you are the stamp of men for me—men who belong to good clubs; I rather intended to appeal to the—er—adventurous classes."

"We are adventurers," said Raffles gravely.

"But you respect the law?"

"The black eyes gleamed slyly. 'We are not professional rogues, if that's what you mean,' said Raffles, smiling. 'But on our beam ends we are. We would do a good deal for £1,000 apiece, eh, Bunney?'"

"Anything," I murmured.

"The solicitor rapped his desk. 'I'll tell you what I want you to do. You can but refuse. It's illegal, but it's illegal in a good cause. That's the risk, and my client is prepared to pay for it. He will pay for the attempt in case of failure. The money is as good as yours once you consent to run the risk. My client is Sir Bernard Debenham of Broom Hall, Essex.'

"I know his son," I remarked.

Raffles knew him, too, but said nothing, and his eye dropped disapprovingly in my direction. Bennett Addenbrooke turned to me.

"Then," said he, "you have the privilege of knowing one of the most complete young blackguards about town and the fons et origo of the whole trouble. As you know the son, you may know the father, too, at all events by reputation, and in that case I needn't tell you that he is a very peculiar man. He lives alone in a storehouse of treasures which no eyes but his ever behold. He is said to have the finest collection of pictures in the south of England, though nobody ever sees them to judge. Pictures, fiddles and furniture are his hobby, and he is undoubtedly very eccentric. Nor can one deny that there has been considerable eccentricity in his treatment of his son. For years Sir Bernard paid his debts and the other day, without the slightest warning, not only refused to do so any more, but absolutely stopped the lad's allowance. Well, I'll tell you what has happened, but first of all you must know, or you may remember, that I appeared for young Debenham in a little scrape he got into a year or two ago. I got him off all right, and Sir Bernard paid me hand-some on the nail. And no more did I hear or see of either of them until one day last week."

The lawyer drew his chair nearer ours and leaned forward with a hand on either knee.

"On Tuesday of last week I had a telegram from Sir Bernard. I was to go to him at once. I found him waiting for me in the drive. Without a word he led me to the picture gallery, which was locked and darkened, drew up a blind and stood simply pointing to an empty picture frame. It was a long time before I could get a word out of him. Then at last he told me that that frame had contained one of the rarest and most valuable pictures in England—in the world—an original Velasquez. I have checked this," said the lawyer, "and it seems literally true; the picture was a portrait of the infant Maria Teresa, said to be one of the artist's greatest works; second only to another portrait of one of the popes in Rome—so they told me at the National gallery, where they had its history by heart. They say there that the picture is practically priceless. And young Debenham has sold it for £5,000!"

Saved His Life.

J. W. Davenport, Wingo, Ky., writes, June 14, 1902: "I want to tell you I believe Ballard's Snow Liniment saved my life. I was under the treatment of two doctors and they told me one of my lungs was badly affected. I also had a lamp on my side. I don't think that I could have lived over two months longer. I was induced by a friend to try Ballard's Snow Liniment. The first application gave me great relief; two fifty cent bottles cured me sound and well."

It is a wonderful medicine and I recommend it to suffering humanity.

EMBALMED SON'S BODY

And the Aged Father Says He Will Keep It Until He Dies.

A very peculiar case was reported to the police this morning, but it is one in which the authorities have no jurisdiction.

It was reported that a shanty boat owner who has his boat tied up at the towhead across from the I. C. incline, has the body of his son embalmed and intends to keep it as long as he, the father, lives.

The boy died several days ago and a coffin was procured. The father purchased alcohol and other liquids and prepared the body for keeping. He says he will keep the body thus embalmed until he dies. The father is said to be an aged man and is evidently demented.

Retail Merchants Have Increasing Membership.

About ten new members were added to the enrollment of the Paducah Retail Merchants' Association at its meeting last night. There was a good attendance and the plans for the coming experiment of refunding railroad fare to people coming here from within a radius of 75 miles and buying as much as $30 worth of goods, were fully discussed. The committee was authorized to proceed and have all the necessary printing done and to do whatever it deems best in regard to advertising the plan in surrounding towns.

Body of Mr. Fred Harmeling Not Found for Sometime.

Was Horribly Mangled—Brother of Mr. J. E. Harmeling, of Paducah.

Yesterday's Louisville papers give the following account of the death of Mr. Fred H. Harmeling, brother of Mr. J. E. Harmeling, of Paducah, and a cousin of Mr. H. G. Harmeling:

Fred H. Harmeling, night yard master of the Big Four railroad, was ground to pieces under switch trains in the yards near Jackson and Washington streets at 8 o'clock last night. The members of the train crew did not miss him for sometime after he was killed.

One of the switchmen found his detached arm lying at the side of the track and it was only after a long search that the other parts of the body were discovered. Even then it was half an hour before it was known positively that the body was that of Mr. Harmeling.

The body was identified by a ring by Mr. Younger after he had returned from a trip to Jeffersonville. Mr. Harmeling was 33 years old. He was born and reared in New Albany, and when a young man began the study of telegraphy. He first held the position as telegraph operator for the K. and I. Bridge Co., in Louisville. Later he became a switchman. He is survived by a wife, two daughters and one step-child.

JOKE ON THE CHIEF.

He Thought His Diamond Elk Pin Was Lost, But It Wasn't.

There was "something doing" about the city hall yesterday afternoon when Chief of Police, James Collins missed his diamond studded Elk pin, and the police and detectives were hustling about in all directions in their attempt to locate the missing article. The pin was taken as a joke but the chief did not enjoy it near so much as Clerk Henry Bailey and a few others about the hall who were "next."

Every afternoon about 1 o'clock when Chief Collins comes from dinner, he seats himself in his big office desk chair in the corner of Capt. Wood's office and goes to sleep. Clerk Bailey yesterday as a joke unbuttoned the pin and walked away with it. When the chief awoke from his slumbers, he missed the pin. Thinking he had lost it, telephone messages were sent all over the city to officers instructing them to search where the chief had been and attempt to find the pin. Chief Collins thinking he had dropped it off his coat. After an hour's search Clerk Bailey brought the pin in and confessed to the joke.

Chief Collins says he intends locking himself in the vault hereafter when he takes his naps in the afternoon.

A NEW SPORT

FROG CATCHING IS BECOMING POPULAR WITH RAILROAD MEN.

Mr. C. Mills Has An Automatic "Catcher" They Use With Great Success.

There are many sportsmen employed in the local I. C. shops, and as a result there are all kinds of clubs formed. There is a club known as the Paducah Rifle and Revolver club which is composed chiefly of railroad men and formerly the railroad men maintained a gun club distinct and apart from the Paducah Gun club, but later consolidated with the latter club.

The latest club to gain prominence but which has not yet been organized, is a frog catching club and from indications this class of sport will spring into prominence and outshine all other organizations among the railroad men.

It all started over the appearance of Mr. C. Mills, a pipe fitter employed in the local shops. He came here from Pine Bluff, Ark., with a patent frog catcher he devised. The frog catcher is automatic and is infallible. The work is done at night and Mills has caught frogs as large as 24 inches and as many as half a hundred in a few hours.

His methods are simple. He will go to a swampy place at night frequented by frogs and "shine" them with a bicycle lamp. Frogs at night are dazzled by the brilliant light and remain perfectly still, lying on top of the water apparently dead.

The frog catcher is made on the order of a pair of hooks with a spring attachment. So delicate is the trap that the minute the hooks, which are attached to a long pole, touch the frog, they come together with a snap and Mr. Frog is caught.

Frog legs are delicacies to many persons and many local railroaders are making frog catchers with view of enjoying this class of sport, and feasting on frog legs.

SEVEN DEFENDANTS

MADE UP THE POLICE COURT DOCKET TODAY.

An Interesting Cow Case Started Off—Several Fines Were Assessed.

Police Judge D. L. Sanders had seven defendants before him this morning, and it required just five minutes to settle with each, court lasting but 35 minutes.

Bob Mahaffey, alias Hickman, white, was arraigned for grand larceny, and his case promises to develop some interesting facts. A few weeks ago Mr. Claude Russell, the dairyman, reported a cow missing and furnished the police with a description. Detective Moore and Baker were put to work on the case and learned that Mahaffey had killed a cow of this description. They worked the case up to a point where an arrest was effected.

Mahaffey claims that he bought the cow from a stranger and after killing it sold the beef to a grocer at wholesale. On account of the absence of witnesses the defendant was granted a continuance until tomorrow morning.

Other cases were: H. P. Hawkins & Son, breach of ordinance, on motion of the prosecuting attorney, dismissed; Mrs. Churchill, using profanity, $5 and costs; Jeff McClure, colored, breach of the peace, $3 and costs; Clint Riley, colored, breach of the peace, $10 and costs; Louis Smithers, colored, criminal assault, warrant for this charge dismissed and held to the grand jury for detaining a girl; Dan Russell, of Mayfield, grand larceny, on motion of the prosecuting attorney filed away. The prosecuting witness could not be located.

The T. P. A. Ward.

The furniture for the ward to be fitted up by the Paducah Traveling Men's club at the city hospital arrived this morning and was hauled to that institution. The room will be equipped this week and it will be ready for occupancy next week. It will be one of the handsomest in the hospital and is to be used exclusively by members of the order.

I. O. O. F. GRAND LODGE AT SHELBYVILLE

A Large Crowd Expected There October 10th.

A Number of Matters of General Interest to the Fraternity Are to Come Up.

THE LOCAL DELEGATES

Shelbyville, Ky., Oct. 5.—The Kentucky grand lodge of Odd Fellows will convene here October 10 for a three days' session. At least 800 delegates are expected, and Howard lodge, No. 15, I. O. O. F. of Shelbyville, is making great preparations to entertain the visitors. The citizens, regardless of their connection with the order, are joining hands with the lodge to make this year's meeting an exceptional one in the history of the grand lodge.

Arrangements have been made for a big, old-fashioned Kentucky barbecue and barbecue on Wednesday for the entertainment of the grand lodge and visitors. The spacious campus of the Shelby graded school has been secured for the barbecue and barbecue.

The sessions of the grand lodge will be held in the Crescent theater, which will be handsomely decorated and illuminated. The merchants and city officials of Shelbyville have arranged for an elaborate decoration and illumination of the business houses and public buildings.

The coming session of the grand lodge promises to be especially interesting as there are a number of questions that will be acted upon of interest to the entire fraternity all over the state. From information now in the possession of the entertainment committee this promises to be by far the largest session ever held in the history of the order in Kentucky, as, aside from the natural growth of the order, which of itself bespeaks a largely increased attendance, a great many of the members other than representatives will attend.

The order has grown in the state until there are in Kentucky over 20,000 Odd Fellows. In 1865 there were only 8,336, thus showing a phenomenal growth in the past decade.

The delegates from Paducah lodges will be: Mangum lodge, Frank Diegel, Jake Seamon, William Gilbert, Wm. Kraus, George Umbaugh, Charles Kelley, William Morgan and O. T. Anderson; Ingleside lodge, J. M. Cockrell, J. H. Maxwell, J. T. Hutchens, W. H. Patterson, F. L. Smith, C. B. Hatfield, L. K. Taylor and Peter Bechinbaugh.

Tobacco News.

Louisville market: The Ninth St. warehouse offered 34 hogsheds of dark. The lowest price was $2.95 and the highest $3.50. The quantity in general was poor, but the demand was good, and only a few hogsheds were rejected.

Mayfield market: There were no public sales on the tobacco market in the city this week. We have learned of only 20 hogsheds changing hands and we were unable to get the price on them.

NOTICE TO MOTHERS.

In order to allow those who could not be present at our opening, the opportunity to see the special exhibition of Boys' and Children's apparel, and the beautiful decorations, they will remain on display for the rest of the week.
